

Say-On-Pay

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION is always a highly scrutinized topic for all public companies. Your investors are going to want to understand the justification for proposed incomes as well as the expectations for each executive's performance being evaluated.

As your Say-on-Pay corporate advisor, we assess whether your executive compensation plan is likely to be favorably received or if there are potential headwinds looming. Advance knowledge of opposition permits companies to take proactive measures to secure the best possible vote outcome.

Ensure your executive compensation vote is compliant with SEC rules and that your investors have the information they need to vote in favor of the recommendations by partnering with Alliance Advisors' as your Say-on-Pay partner.
